

This report of internship is part of the fulfillment of my award of Diploma in public health at international health Science University which is also conducted at the end of my final year.

The internship was done at Pan African Development Education and Advocacy Program organization and the major reason and objective was to expose the students to practical skills, get acquainted with field work, conditions and to acquire practical knowledge.

Chapter one, provides information on the areas which internship was done like the introduction, background information, mission, vision and objectives of the training.

Chapter two gives the information on the work plan as followed by the students during the training period.

Chapter three, Gives information on the tasks done and issues learnt by the students.

Chapter four gives information on the challenges faced during the training,